■ Qualifying League <Round 1>

Game Procedure

- The timing changes between the first and second halves. Groups 1 to 16 constitute the first half, while Groups 17 to 32 constitute the second half. Matches for the first half are conducted first, followed by matches for the second half, and then it repeats with matches for the first half again.
- Each group has either 8 or 7 teams and they all play against each other. They have two sets per match.
- In each match, the team that wins a rock-paper-scissors or coin toss starts the first set. Then they switch for the second set.
- If the first set ends because of time limits, the winner is decided by the score. The second set is recorded as a draw with zero points for both teams.
- Matches are held on four courts in each group. If a group has seven teams, Team
 H is considered absent and matches proceed accordingly (no rescheduling occurs).

(Process for Deciding the Winner)

- After each set, the winner is determined. Each team's record typically consists of 2 wins, 1 win and 1 loss, or 2 losses, except in cases of a tie, which I'll explain later.
- A whistle is blown five minutes before the end of each match. If there's no clear result, the match ends when the team that's throwing second finishes their turn after the whistle blows.
- If the second set doesn't finish on time, the winner is determined based on the score at the end of the match. If the scores are tied at that point, it's considered a draw.
- If the first set doesn't finish on time, the winner is decided based on the score at the end of the match, just like when the second set doesn't finish on time. In that case, the second set is considered a draw with both teams scoring zero points.
- If a team doesn't show up (doesn't appear on the court by the start time), it's counted as three consecutive absences for the player. However, a "throwing time (60 seconds)" allowance is given for each throw, and the next turn begins. If the opposing team appears on the court within the "throwing time (60 seconds)", they can join the game from that turn.
- If there are three consecutive absences, the participating team wins by default. The same rule applies for the second set. If there's no opponent due to scheduling, the team is considered the winner without waiting for the "throwing time (60 seconds)".
- This rule also applies to the matches on the second day.

[Ranking]won sets > tie sets > total score > Mölkk-out

- The ranking within each group is determined by the number of wins. (Teams with more wins are ranked higher).
- If the number of wins is the same, it's decided by the number of draws. (Teams with more draws are ranked higher).
- If the number of wins and draws is the same, it's determined by the total points. (Teams with more total points are ranked higher).
- If the number of wins, draws, and total points are the same, the ranking is decided by a Mölkk-out between the teams.
 (The team with the highest total points from three throws is ranked higher, and each team throws three times regardless of the number of players).
- The top two teams from each group, totaling 64 teams, advance to Final Tournament Stage 1 < Round 2>. The teams ranked 3rd to 6th, totaling 128 teams, move to the B-tournament Stage 1 < Round 1>.

■Writing the win/loss sheet

- Please leave the score sheet used in the qualifying round matches on the court.
- Each team will fill in their own win-loss sheet for the Qualifying League.
- The win/loss sheet is located at the field of the first game. Please take your own team's sheet when moving to a different field. Each team should write their own team's sheet.
- Write down the won/lost sets, total score, and each team must write their signature.
- Additionally, please make sure that the opponent team writes their signature as well.
- There will also be a score sheet at the field. Please leave this at the field, and bring it to the reception after ALL the the qualifying league games are finished.
- If the opponent team at the first game is absent, please contact the reception.
- We will confirm the ranking of all teams, so you must need to bring the win/loss sheet within 15 min after the last game.
